

THE COMMUNITY SCHOOL

What is The Community School & What Does it Offer?

The Community School (TCS) is very small, nurturing and unique private academic and mentoring high school located in the Remington community of Baltimore City that has been serving students for 40 years.

TCS provides:

- A rigorous academic and multifaceted learning program;
- A dual enrollment program beginning in 10th grade so that TCS students earn up to 30 college credits by high school graduation;
- Daily structured discussions of local, national and international events;
- A weekly speaker series that includes politicians, authors, scientists, entrepreneurs, actors, creators etc.;
- Regular field trips to historical destinations, performances, museums etc.
- An integrated mentoring program focusing on personal development and growth, & creating successful habits;
- A safe, supportive and comfortable environment that fosters growth and advances the student's maturity;
- Honest and frank discussions with no tolerance for harassment or bullying of any kind.

What is Expected of TCS Students?

- Consistently put forth their best effort;
- Maintain a high level of personal standards;
- Contribute to a positive school community;
- Work hard at their studies;
- Respect the TCS Honor Code, and
- Follow the 5 Habits of a Successful Student
 - 1) Show up every day,
 - 2) on time,
 - 3) prepared to learn,
 - 4) with a positive attitude, and
 - 5) all their work.

What Kind of Student Thrives at TCS?
